IN THE BIN by Paul Field

We all love food, we love lots of different tastes
But we buy much more than we can eat, and let it go to waste
We all love food, oh but let this fact sink in
7 million tons, 7 million tons, more than 7 million tons a year,
Goes in the bin!

Just think what would it look like, all in one big pile?
An enormous smelly mountain going on for miles and miles
20 thousand tons, every single day,
You could feed millions of people, with the food we throw away

We all love food, we love lots of different tastes
But we buy much more than we can eat, and let it go to waste
We all love food, oh but let this fact sink in
7 million tons, 7 million tons, more than 7 million tons a year,
Goes in the bin!

When half the world is hungry, it just seems so unfair,
We could all make a difference, if we could only share
We all need to eat, but we don't need to waste
We should never take for granted the food that's on our plate

We all love food, we love lots of different tastes
But we buy much more than we can eat, and let it go to waste
We all love food, oh but let this fact sink in
7 million tons, 7 million tons, more than 7 million tons a year…
7 million tons, 7 million tons, more than 7 million tons a year,
Goes in the bin!
